- Why is this week's topic important for teamwork?

The topic of self discipline is important to team work because if we can not discipline ourselves there is not even a possibility of succeeding as team.

- How do plan on contributing to the team, besides completing your tasks?

I plan on doing all my work in a timely matter and being self-disciplined enough to be prepared enough to help all my fellow classmates in the team.

- How does your experience relate to other experiences you have had?

When I am self-discipline I feel a lot more in control of my life.

When I have had the self-discipline when it comes to my scripture study I have been a lot happier. I am sure I will feel better to be disciplined with classwork as well.

- How does your experience relate to other classmates' experiences?

I am sure that my experience will apply to my classmates. When I am more prepared they will enjoy the fact that I am prepared and that I am in a happier mood.

- If this was a religion class, how would you relate this week's topic to the gospel?

I would explain that the gospel is all about being self-disciplined and coming closer to Jesus Christ. When we take the time to become self-disciplined we will come closer to Jesus Christ.
